

The International School for Postgraduate Studies

At the The International School for Postgraduate Studies we offer quality academic support and an excellent range of services. We offer practical training courses with a view to helping you develop your professional and academic skills, such as:

- Searching for and managing scientific information effectively
- Research projects: Evaluation, criteria and guidelines
- Workshops on preparing, writing and developing scientific articles effectively

All of these courses are designed with the over-arching objective of promoting the employability of postgraduates and lecturers at the UGR.
